

INTERMEDIATE AXIS

by

Philip Mazeikas

“Intermediate Axis” is my hypothesis towards a cure for blindness:

Derivative upon instantaneous pressure dislocated upon integral designated retinal measure of instantaneous frequency upon threshold of cellular inert dimension of derivative upon dislocated limit derives inert return upon designated velocity of instantaneous pressure of rectified threshold upon displaced interval of cellular variance.