

PRESSURE ANALOGOUS CHLORIDE INFLUX

by

Philip Mazeikas

“Pressure Analogous Chloride Influx” is my hypothesis towards an antidote to cocaine:

Prelocated dislocation of invariable nitrous differential of static magnesium sulfate derivative of instantaneous sulfuric pressure and instantaneous magnesium oxide dissension enters derivative.