

ABSOLUTE TRIAL

by

Philip Mazeikas

Preoccupation upon the premise of an indivisible Nation is the recourse of the invalid. Determined question in the name of unresounding Liberty stands as a despotism in the tyranny of an unremarkable mind.

Inadvertent process in the throes of distinguished and irreversible violation of Law dismantle the function of the body of the State.

Deliberate reprisal in the face of a limit of power denies the sanctity of a forthcoming and imminent security.

Barack Obama, in the statute of his discretion upon the populous of the Nation, defines the artifact of the day of The United States of America's treason upon the harmony and legislation of definitive trust.

Trial upon the rectified body of a fortified State enters a preliminary value upon the clause of an inevitable justice.

Internal measures undergone in the requisite force of the body of Congress must denote upon the populous the integration of judicial function in the reason of The Constitution.

History resounds as a plight in the Freedom of domestic tranquility.

Indetermined strength upon the return of Presidential power enters the function of question.

Resolve in the State upon the negligence of domestic and international sabotage of National Security demands process in the measure of treaty.

Denial of internal operations in the emptiness of deterred honor remarks upon the world as a fundamental and unjustified detriment.

Remission from invaluable trial is justified upon the resolve and wisdom of the imminent and lawful investigation of fundamental injustice.