

THE LEGEND OF THE KEY

by

Philip Mazeikas

The Legend Of The Key is an industry of all consenting industries as one.

The three pillars of The Legend Of The Key are the public, the Nation, and independent industry.

In The Legend Of The Key, the industrial goods are the public's commerce, the Nation's economic value, and independent industry's trade.

The gross domestic product of exchange achieved in The Legend Of The Key is divided in three, one third allocated to the public as income, one third allocated to the Nation as revenue, and one third allocated to independent industry as profit.
