

Between Man And God

By

Philip Mazeikas

Invariable measure, upon denotation of refrain upon concordance of interjection of imminent and resounding conclusion of vital internment, measures credence upon limit of function upon interval of allocated discretion of pretense upon calculation of renown.